FOREWORD

As the co-editors of your 1953 edition of the Rosette, we wish to publicly thank all of the various groups and individuals who have aided in the publication of this sixteenth annual edition.

All of the members of the Staff have done their very best, as always. We are grateful for their effort and co-operation. Although the average reader may not realize it, publishing a yearbook involves many different types of work: selling advertisements, taking pictures, keeping records, raising money, proof reading, typing, setting up the book, and many other tasks that involve hours of tedious work. Yet our Staff is an "editor's dream," for within our talented group we have always been able to find members who are born salesmen, talented artists, and full of bright ideas.

This year we have introduced a new system, advertising by page sponsorship, which we hope will prove popular. We feel that this system has many definite advantages over the old system of placing all of the advertisements in the back of the book. The advertisers favor this method because the advertisements are distributed more uniformly. The advertiser can now place his message in an appropriate and related part of the yearbook. This method also aids the Rosette Staff for it reduces the number of pages needed without any reduction in the number of picture pages. As a result of this effectiveness for this plan, we have been able to offer this year's edition of the Rosette at no increase in cost, in spite of the rising cost of production.

Summing it all up, we only want to say, thanks for the cooperation and we hope you like our book.

DEDICATION

BETTY JEAN BASNETT

We, the members of the '53 Rosette Staff, wish to dedicate this book to Miss Betty Jean Basnett, our faculty advisor, to show our appreciation for the great effort she has put forth in the publishing of our Rosette.

When Miss Basnett took over this position, she was unacquainted with the many problems that inevitably confront the advisor of a year-book. In spite of this handicap, she has succeeded in helping iron out our many difficulties.

Although some of us won't be here, we hope that she will lead our staff for many years to come.

SENIORS

Today we are Seniors, ready to graduate! Remembering back through the last four years, we have many memories. Our supervisors for our Freshman year were Miss Ransbottom and Mr. Curl. For our Sophomore year they were Mrs. Kerchner and Mr. Russell. Our Junior year Miss Clark and Mrs. Leaders. Our Senior year Mrs. Mace and Mr. White.

During these four years our class officers were: Freshmen—President, Paula Maxwell; Vice President, Charles Cassady; Secretary and Treasurer, Carl Taylor. Sophomore—President, Bill Good; Vice President, Gene Probasco; Secretary, Ronald Chrisley; Treasurer, Bill Evans. Junior—President, Ronald Chrisley; Vice President, Bill Good; Secretary, Shirley Barker; Treasurer, Bill Evans. Senior—President, Ronald Chrisley; Vice President, Bill Good; Secretary, Shirley Barker; Treasurer, Bill Evans.

We chose for our Homecoming attendants these past four years: Paula Maxwell, Kay Savage, Mary Axline, and Thelma Tharp. Paula Maxwell reigned as our Homecoming Queen.

Now as our class of 1953 departs, our hearts are filled with sadness, because we are leaving our friends, teachers, and school that we have loved so well.

Through the years that follow, we shall never forget our Happy Days at Roseville High School.

Thelma Tharp and Merlyn Elson

CLASS PROPHECY

On May 29, 1967, the Senior Class of 1953 found themselves together once again; and oddly enough, this class reunion took place at "The Greatest Show on Earth", the Ringling Brothers, Baldwin and Bagent Circus.

Now the whole idea of the reunion was thought of by the two circus partners formerly of Roseville, Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Bagent, who, with the approval of John Ringling North, arranged for the seats and other surprises for their former schoolmates. To show their appreciation, the entire class showed up one way or another before it was over.

We took our ring side seats as soon as we arrived and renewed our friendships with our old classmates. Sitting beside us, were Ted Moody, Gene Swingle, and John McLaughlin whom we now read much about on the sports page of any newspaper in the U. S. These three men have led the Cleveland Indians to five straight pennants and World Series wins. Each of these players can play any position on the team.

Behind us sat one of the most celebrated music lovers of the day, the well known Bernardo Anderson, President of the Metropolitan Opera Company. At his side sat David Laughlin, the 'Met's' foremost singing star.

Before the circus got underway, we met several more old friends. These included: Edward Smith and Marvis Thompson, an up-and-coming dance team; Winfield Miller, the noted women's hair stylist; Shirley Barker, the wild woman comedienne who does regular shows at the Cocacabanna Club; and Frank Reed, who now designs the latest evening gowns for women, of course.

Finally the Kenny Bagent Circus Band struck up a circus march, and the grand entry began. The parade was very colorful and exciting; and when the elephants paraded past, we were surprised to see that the circus queens riding the elephants were none other than Betty Yahn, Virginia Gallis and Gletta Ferguson.

Right after the parade, a commotion started in the aisle; and much to our surprise we saw the 'singing cowboy', Monty West, signing autographs for a few of his friends. With Monty was his publicity agent, Tommy Williams, who also had a Used Car business on the side.

A few others had drifted in while the parade was going on. Among them were Meris Drake and Darlene Spears. They had just come from abroad where they had become the champion tennis team of the world.

Meanwhile the main show had gotten underway, and the ring master, Bernie Baldwin, had already introduced some of the acts. Several of these acts, as we had been told beforehand, featured a few of our former classmates; for Bernie and Kenny had hired those of the 1953 Senior Class who had chosen circus work for their career. Among these performers were the three daring trapeze artists, Martha Truax, Grant Woods, and Richard Emory, who thrilled the entire audience with their long leaps from one trapeze to another. Marlene Carson, also a circus performer, got the crowd's applause when she walked a tight rope which led from one end of the tent to the other and was 50 feet high.

Just as Larry Karns, the lion tamer for the Ringling Bros., Baldwin and Bagent Circus, had begun his act we came across Larry Lenhart, the middle-weight boxing champion of the world, and Creta DeMent, who is a model for Zola Gheen, the famous American painter. Moving down the midway we hear a voice that sounds rather familiar. As we come closer we see that it is none other than Charles Cassady, the barker of the circus. He wants us to come in and see the three bearded ladies Thelma Tharp, Jeannine Moore, and Mary Chesser.

What we see just across the midway makes us quiver. Mary Jane Ridenour, the snake charmer, is trying to get her pet away from Ronnie Pemberton's neck. Ronnie is a sword thrower with Mary Axline as his assistant.

Doug Kinnan and Ronnie Chrisley have invented a new hair tonic which the clowns, Herb Chambers, Larry Fleming and Gene Probasco, are experimenting with. They never have to worry about their hair now—it stays well in place. John Fogelsong our singing and roping cowboy is roping the two bare back riders today; Merlyn Elson and Art Henry. John might become as good as Will Rogers someday.

Bill Evans is selling tickets to see the Dare Devils; Shirley Mock, Betty Wilson, Carl Taylor and Gene Shipley. Their hot rods are really in good shape. Maybe it's because Guy McConnell and Tom Neff are the mechanics.

Guess who is selling peanuts and pop corn; Kay Savage and Bill Good. They tell me they love their work, (and I think they both weigh a ton).

The new lion tamers have just gone into their cages; Rhonda Williams and Patty Stephenson, would you ever guess that for their profession?

I think we've seen all of our old "53" classmates and they all looked wonderful. Baldwin and Bagent have a taxi waiting to take us back to the hotel. They say that Loren Carr is the driver, but don't be afraid; he hasn't wrecked any cabs yet this month!

Charles Cassady

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1953 of Roseville High School, being of sound minds, do hereby make public and declare this last will and testament.

Article 1

To the class of '56, we leave three more years in solitary confinement.
To the class of '55, we leave our ability to talk so much and to find so much to talk about.
To the class of '54, we leave Mrs. Mace, may Heaven help you.

Article 2

To Mr. Regula and Mr. Buck we will the song "You'll Never Get Away."
To Dean White we will him a championship team in basketball for next year.
To Miss Basnett and Miss Clark we leave the class of '55 in hopes they can do more with them than Mr. Russell.
To Mrs. Mace we leave a brand new, genuine leather little black book to put those unruly Senior's names in.
To Mrs. Kerchner we leave the left overs from the Home Economics classes of this year.
To Mr. Russell we leave hundreds of bright students for his Physics Class hoping they can do just as good as his Chemistry students.
To Mr. Leuck we leave the memories of his first year as head football coach of Roseville High School. Here's hoping you'll be here for a long time, you're a great guy.
To Mr. Curl we leave a whole crop of new jokes to tell, and also a new gaspipe.
To Mr. Wolfe we leave next years Government Class hoping that he won't have to throw as many of them out of class as he did this year.
To Mrs. Worthington we leave the old beat up typewriters and next year's typing class who can make just as much confusion as the eight period class did.
To Vern King we leave the paper and chewing gum wads we so ably distributed in the halls and under the bleachers.

Article 3

To the school we leave a few more black marks on the rest room walls. Our portrait in the big study hall.
A few more worn out books that enabled us to graduate as the smartest class from R. H. S.

Article 4

I, Bernard Anderson, will my ability to keep quiet in study halls to Alan Combs.
I, Mary Axline, will my athletic ability to Nathalie Nebinger.
I, Shirley Barker, will my ability to go steady with a McLuney boy to Betty Law.
I, Kenny Bagent, will my ability to be the slowest and last boy to get out of the locker room, after football and basketball practice to Donnie Fleming in hopes that he won't keep everyone waiting like I did.
I, Bernie Baldwin, will my ability to make a three point stance with no hands to Bill Stuck.
I, Herb Chambers, will my ability to go steady with a girl for two years to Vic Duff.
I, Loren Carr, will my ability to get book reports on time to Jimmie Wilson.
I, Charles Cassady, will my ability to get along without girls to Jim Cresente.
I, Mary Chesser, will my ability to hold boys without tripping them to Mary Tatman.
I, Marlene Carson, will my ability to get along with kids in school to Judy Eversole.
I, Ronald Chrisley, will my Buck Rogers spacemens beanie to Jack Harlan.
I, Creta DeMent, will a pair of nylon hose to Mrs. Worthington so she won't have to wear anklets.
I, Meris Drake, will my glasses to Larry Bishop in hopes he can see better than I can.
I, Merlyn Elson, will my title as sweater girl to Betty Law in hopes she can fill it out as well as I did.
I, Bill Evans, will my ability to keep old cars running to Ronnie Lynn in hopes he won't have to walk as much as I did.
I, Richard Emory, will my job of being football manager for four years to Ted Ford.
I, Gletta Ferguson, will my patience to next year's typist manager and hope she can get the typist to type when they're supposed to.
I, Larry Fleming, will Sonny Duff my sister, he better take good care of her too.
I, John Fogelsong, will my false teeth to George Spring in hopes he can use them as well as I did.
I, Virginia Gallis, will my long hair to Martha Tignor.
I, Zola Gheen, will my fiery red hair to Joy Cannon.
I, Larry Karns, will my ability to get detentions from Mr. Curl to anyone stupid enough to get them.
I, Doug Kinnan, will my ability to get my Chevy off the school grounds before anyone else to Bill Stuck.
I, Larry Lenhart, will my motorcycle to Vic Duff in hopes he does not scare the girls as much as I did.
I, Guy McConnell, will my bookkeeping book to any crazy enough to take it.
I, Roger Miller, will my book report material to anyone who needs it.
I, Shirley Mock, will Paula Cassady a pair of scissors in hopes she will use them on her hair.
I, John McLaughlin, will my chemistry book to anyone smart enough to take it.
I, Ted Moody, will my ability to train wild steers to Sharon Heckel.
I, Jeannine Moore, will my makeup to Joan Brumage.
I, Tom Neff, will my bookkeeping book to anyone who will study it as hard as I did.
I, Gene Probasco, will my ability to remain a bachelor to Don Fleming.

CLASS WILL

I, Ronnie Pemberton, will my car and ability to take care of Zanesville girls to Bill Stuck.
I, Frank Reed, will my ability to play basketball to Jack Beall.
I, Mary Jane Ridenour, will my sun tan and ability to get a lot of nicknames to Dixie Short.
I, Kay Savage, will my tights to next year's cheerleader in hopes she can fill them as well as I did.
I, Gene Shipley, will my good-behavior in study hall to Ronnie Cookson.
I, Edward Smith, will my bookkeeping book to anyone dumb enough to take it.
I, Gene Swingle, will my Economics book to anybody crazy enough to take it.
I, Darlene Spears, will my shorthand book to Luada Snyder.
I, Pat Stephenson, will my ability to have my chance to ride in a new Henry J to Kay Carroll.
I, Thelma Tharp, will a sewing machine to Mr. Leuck so he can fix football pants.
I, Martha Truax, will my ability to run into something along the road to anyone in drivers training class.
I, Marvis Thompson, will my natural curly hair to Nathalie Nebinger.
I, Carl Taylor, will my car to Jim Crecente to ride the good looking females around at noon.
I, Monty West, will my ability to break traffic laws to Bill Stuck.
I, Art Henry, will my chance to go with a stock car Queen to Tommy Shipley.
I, Tom Williams, will to Don Fleming my ability to speed and not smash up Dad's car.
We, Rhonda Williams and Betty Wilson, will our shorthand books to Nancy Sindledecker and Edith Launder in hopes that they get along better than we did.
I, Grant Woods, will a spark plug from my car to Junior Shiplett.
I, Betty Yahn, will my ability to go steady to Mary Jane Veno.
We, Dave Laughlin and Bill Good, after writing this, just leave. Here's hoping we make it.

Article 5

This has been signed, published, and declared by the above Senior Class as its last will and testament, in the presence of the portraits, the books and about 15 study hall teachers and we heretofor sign our names as witnesses.

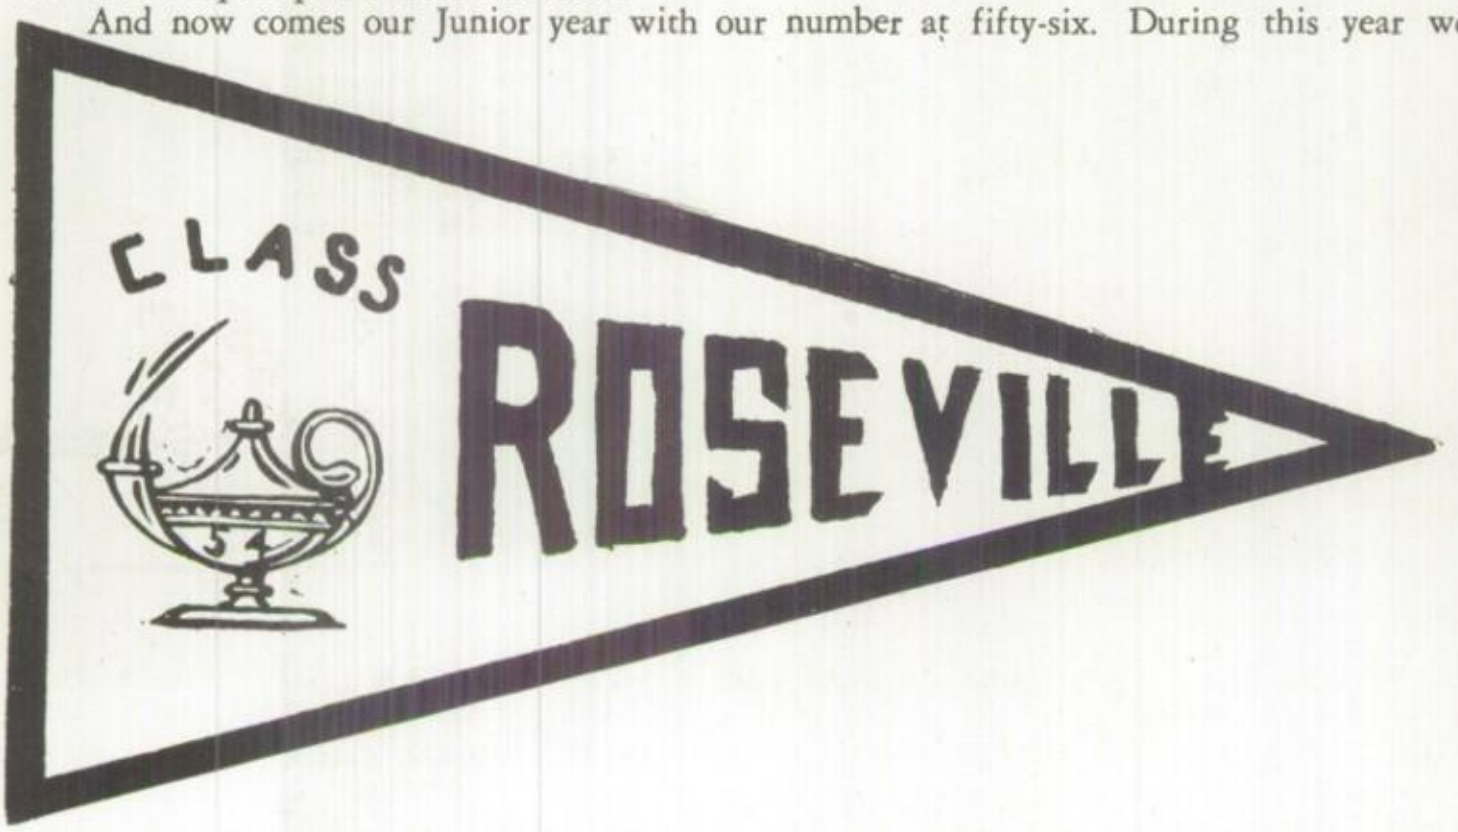
JUNIOR

Our Junior Class History begins in September of 1950. In this year we entered Roseville High School with many things in store for us. Those three years since we were Freshmen seem an eternity. In the fall of 1950, eighty-one Freshmen trooped into R. H. S. and found our way into one of the two rooms available to us. Remember our class officers? Madonna Wilson was our president, Bud Spring, our vice president; and Phyllis Adams, our attendant this year, we chose as treasurer. Jim Derr had the honor of escorting her. Miss Ransbottome and Mr. Curl had the pleasure of leading us through this year.

Next came our Sophomore year with Mr. Russell and Mrs. Kerchner. By this time we had lost seven members of our class. This year as every year, we again chose our class officers. They were: Bill Stuck, president; Larry Bishop, vice president; Phyllis Adams, secretary and Bud Spring, treasurer. Jane Browning was our Homecoming attendant and Jim Derr did a repeat performance as escort.



And now comes our Junior year with our number at fifty-six. During this year we have many money making projects. We start out by selling football pencils; then comes our magazine sales and Junior Variety Show; then our sale of basketball pencils. Now we are awaiting our Junior Class Play. We owe much of our success at these projects to the helpful guidance of Miss Basnett and Miss Clark. We must not forget our class officers for this year who were; Bill Stuck, president; Don Fleming, vice president; Mildred Dozer, secretary and Larry Bishop, treasurer. We chose Joan Brumage as our homecoming attendant and Bud Spring as her escort. We wind up this year with the Junior-Senior Prom. During these years there were many things for us to do. There were class rings, assemblies, dances, wiener roasts, band, chorus, football, basketball, semester and scholarship tests, the "I Speak for Democracy" and the "Prince of Peace" contests. Mildred Dozer and Julia Hansen both had a turn at winning the local "Prince of Peace" contest.

Remember all these things? These are only a few of the wonderful memories we carry on with us. And next year, we're sure, will add many more.

SOPHOMORE

In September 1951, we 67 Freshmen walked into the halls of Roseville High School, with faces all aglow and hearts filled with laughter. We started the year with happiness.

After meeting our home room teachers who were Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Curl, we got settled and started to perform our duties as Freshmen.

We elected our officers who were: Carl Huston, President; Shirley Gilmore, Vice President; Larry Mock, Treasurer; and Marlene Wolfe, assistant Treasurer. Our events of the year were a weiner roast, assembly and a square dance. We elected Mary Jane Veno as our Homecoming attendant.

When we entered the Sophomore home room, we found our very capable instructors to be Mrs. Worthington and Mr. Russell. We elected George Spring, President; Colin Kirkbride, Vice President; Carl Huston, Treasurer; and Bill Heim, Secretary. We chose maroon and grey as our class colors.

We elected Kay Eveland as our Homecoming attendant, with David Williams having the honor of escorting her. Some of our other activities of this year were a hayride and weiner roast at the home of Larry Mock. In February we had an assembly and a Valentine Dance. The highlight of our Sophomore year was the day we chose our class rings.

As we are ready to leave the Sophomore class, we hope the classes which follow us will have as many happy memories and experiences as we have had.

FRESHMAN

We began our Freshman year with ninety-six Freshmen. We had three home rooms. We were all very excited our first day in Roseville High School.

Our home room teachers were Mrs. Kerchner, Mr. Curl and Mr. Wolfe.

We elected the following officers this year; President, Brenda Eveland, Vice President, Karen Aiken and Jeannine Callihan as Treasurer.

Shirley Koehler was chosen as the Freshman attendant at the Homecoming game. Her escort was Sandy Smith and Bill Law was the driver of the car.

Clara Ann Savage was chosen as the Freshman cheerleader on the Varsity squad, and Bernadette Stuck on the Reserve squad.

OFFICERS

Karen Aiken, Brenda Eveland, Jeanine Callihan.

The following students were elected to represent the Freshman class in the Junior Red Cross: Bernice Chrisley, Alan Dozer, Jimmy Woodward, Bernadette Stuck, Gene Thompson and Eleanor Kokensparger.

To highlight the year each room had a pot luck dinner. We all enjoyed our Freshman year at Roseville High School and we hope that the rest of the classes to follow will have as much fun as we have had.

JUNIOR HIGH ADVISORS

Vernon Leuck, Lura Margaret Ricks, Norma Green, Marjorie Hanes.

EIGHTH

We entered Roseville Junior Hi in September 1951. We were divided into two sections, 7A and 7B. Our advisors were Miss Marjorie Hanes and Miss Betty Basnett. The class officers for the year were: Pres. Fred Shaw; Vice Pres. Paul Moore; Sec. Sue Maxwell; Treas. Pat Ryland.

In September we came back ready for another session. Miss Ricks became advisor for 8A, the band section; and Mr. Leuck took charge of 8B. The officers for the year were: Pres. Fred Shaw; Sec. of 8A, Sue Maxwell; Sec. of 8B, Judy Morgan; Treas. of 8A, Patty Ryland; Treas. of 8B, Mary Ann Robison. 8A is to be complimented because they have maintained the highest percentage attendance record. in the Roseville School District this year, and were the first to fill their Red Cross Boxes.
